Lab 8 - Coding Standards and Guidelines

Introduction

In this lab, you will review a piece of code against Google's Style Guide for the appropriate language.

You may pick any piece of code you've already worked on in the labs previously, or can use another piece of code from work or downloaded from the internet.

Goals

1. Obtain the Google Style Guide for the language your code is written in.

2. In pairs, review the code, discussing where the code meets or differs from the Style Guide and the reasons for this.

3. Consider if any of the points in the Style Guide conflict with any practices commonly followed where you work.

4. We'll discuss what you found when we're all back as a whole group.
